Nathan Ward, President of AquaDiversities Inc., a Nelson company and one of our affiliate members, won the 2012 award for 'Excellence in the Water & Waste Community – Individual' presented by the British Columbia Water & Waste Association. The award was based on his work in designing and installing an affordable water treatment plant meeting Interior Health's 43210 standards for a small system that had been on a long-standing boil water notice.

The British Columbia Water & Waste Association's annual conference & trade show will be held on April 20-24, 2013 in Kelowna. There will be a one day small water systems symposium at the conference, at a special low rate for small system owners, managers and operators.
